ABOUT AARP FOUNDATION

A country free of poverty, where no older person feels vulnerable. That is the vision of AARP Foundation, the leading charitable organization focused on helping low-income, vulnerable older people meet their everyday needs—housing, food, personal connections and income.

AARP Foundation embodies the spirit of giving back and service that has always been the touchstone of AARP. We recognize that there will be people who fall through the safety net and will struggle to meet their most basic needs. We work to fill this gap. Working hand-in-hand with communities across the country, assisted by grants, corporate sponsors, individuals and AARP itself, AARP Foundation nurtures the seeds of hope for millions of vulnerable low-income people 50+, providing the resources they need to help them live a better life.

A Little Help Can Make a Big Difference

A second set of eyes is always a good idea to help provide you with financial peace of mind. Once or twice a month a volunteer will come to your home to help you establish a budget, pay bills on time, and balance your checkbook. AARP Foundation Money Management Program matches volunteers with people who need help with monthly budgeting and check writing. The program helps with check writing and bill paying. It does not provide extra money.

Managing Expenses Feels Better

Clients tell us that once they have joined the program, they felt happier, more relaxed and better knowing that their bills were getting paid on time.

Your local Money Management Program works hard to make compatible matches between the client and volunteer. Volunteers are carefully screened, trained, and monitored. Your financial information is completely confidential. And, AARP Foundation maintains coverage to protect the funds of clients enrolled in the Money Management Program.

How to Know if the Money Management Program is Right for You

If you can answer "yes" to any of the following questions, consider contacting your local Money Management Program.

- Are there unpaid bills in different places in your home?
- Have the lights, water, phone or heat been shut off in the last 12 months?
- Do you worry about not having enough money to make ends meet?
